OPPOSES ATTEMPT TO LIMIT POWERS OF SUPREME COURT

Bar Association Meeting in Minneapolis Opened Wednesday With President's Address

URGES APPOINTMENT OF EXPERTS TO CODIFY FEDERAL STATUTES

Davis Proposes Ratification of Treaties by Majority Vote

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—By The Associated Press.—Opposition to any curtailment of the powers of the United States supreme court was expressed by John W. Davis of New York in his address as president of the American Bar association at the opening session of its forty-sixth annual convention here Wednesday.

In addition to this stand, which applies to decisions involving constitutionality of congressional enactments as well as departure from 5 to 4 majority decisions, the association president also advocated the following:

Congress should come into being immediately upon its election, and the president and vice president should be inaugurated without any unnecessary lapse of time.

The bar should demand without further delay the appointment under congressional authority of an expert commission to codify the federal statutes.

Adoption of a constitutional amendment permitting the president of the United States to veto specific items in an appropriation bill.

Ratification of treaties with foreign countries by the senate by a majority vote, instead of the two-thirds vote now required.

Submission of constitutional amendments directly to the people of the several states and to the legislatures selected after and not before the amendment has been proposed.

Repeated hope expressed in association's resolution last year that "a war may be found by which the government of the United States may avail itself of the permanent court of international justice."

The address of Mr. Davis, who presided at the opening session of the three-day gathering, was presided over by the reports of Thomas W. Kemp of Baltimore, secretary, and Fred L. Wadham, Albany, N. Y., treasurer, and was followed by nominations for the general council.

Wednesday afternoon, the association was in session for a special session with the Minnesota Bar association to listen to an address by Pierce Butler, associate justice of the United States supreme court. Tonight, the Earl of Birmingham, former chancellor of Great Britain, will address the convention.

OTTAWA TO REFUSE CLEARANCE TO SHIPS CARRYING LIQUOR

VANCOUVER, B. C.—Instructions have been received by local customs officials from Ottawa that clearance papers must be refused to vessels of less than 250 tons register which are carrying liquor to any foreign port. This will eliminate a considerable portion of the fleet which is now clearing for Mexican ports liquor believed to be intended for smuggling into the United States.

STATE PREPARED TO DEAL WITH ANY SHORTAGE IN COAL

Machinery of State Market Bureau and Coal Committee in Good Working Order

ANTHRACITE SUPPLY IN STATE BELOW NEEDS FOR THE WINTER

Shortage Can be Met With Soft Coal Say Coal Dealers

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press—A coal strike in the anthracite fields will find Wisconsin prepared this year for the distribution of available supplies. F. H. Pressentin, of the state department of markets, state fuel agent during 1922, declared Wednesday.

Machinery of the state department of markets and of the state coal committee is in working order, prepared to take up the task of apportioning both hard and soft coal, according to Mr. Pressentin. The experience of last year, together with the records built up by that experience, will be available to make a repetition less strenuous, he said.

Coal companies report to the marketing department that anthracite supplies in Wisconsin are far under the winter's needs of the state. They are said to have advised, however, that sufficient soft coal supplies will be on the docks and distributed to companies to take care of the hard coal shortage should a strike be called.

Should another fuel emergency arise in Wisconsin, it is expected that Governor Blaine would reappoint the state coal committee that functioned during the fall and winter of 1922. Mr. Pressentin served as the agent for this committee in actively distributing the supplies and keeping in touch with the needs of local communities and industries.

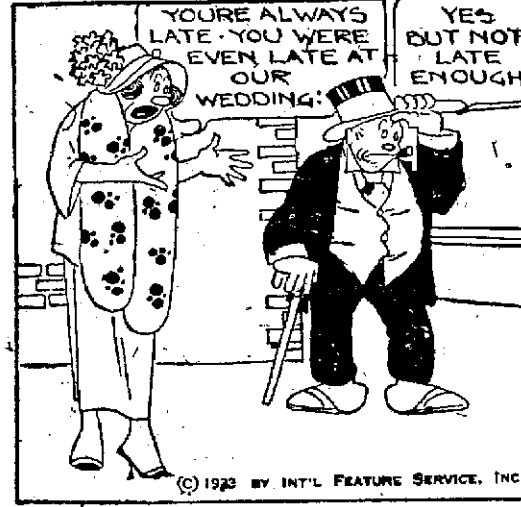

With sufficient soft coal supplies assured to meet the Wisconsin needs, Mr. Pressentin does not look for a repetition of the coal crisis that faced the state a year ago.

WINONA GAS RATE CUT SIXTEEN CENTS BY THE UTILITY

WINONA, Minn.—A reduction in the price of gas, effective September 1 for a period of four months, was announced here by the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light & Power Co.

The new rate of $1.56 per thousand cubic feet is the lowest in three and a half years.

For the past two and a half years the rate has been fixed according to a method prescribed by Judge Wilbur F. Booth in a decision in federal court issued February 21, 1921, directing that the price of gas in Winona be adjusted every four months on the basis of the holder cost of gas for the preceding period.

The rate charged during the past four months is $1.73.

The first rate under the decision of Judge Booth was $1.93, or thirty-seven cents more than the new charge just announced. Since that time the price has fluctuated as follows: $1.80; $1.70; $1.79; $1.71; $1.80; $1.73; $1.56.

The present price reduction was made possible, according to George W. Briggs, local manager, by a slight reduction in the cost of coal and an increase in the amount of gas consumed.

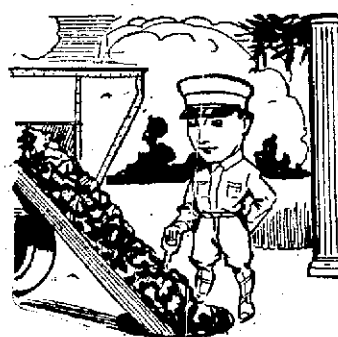

Judge Booth in his decision directed that the price of gas be determined on the basis of two elements: the maintenance cost, which remains practically the same over a long period of time; and the holder cost, which varies with the price of coal, labor costs, etc. It was a decline in the holder cost of gas during the past four months that made possible the staying a week, thereby getting rest and nerve relaxation that will do many of us as much good as a whole season of golf.

It's a mistake to start a campaign of strenuous exercise unless we're prepared to get more hours of sleep than we've been used to. Sleep does most of us more good than all the pills, serums and other forms of "dope" ever devised.

The person who feels "all run down" should start his building-up campaign by getting plenty of sleep, doctors say. Also by lying down several times during the day, for about 20 minutes at a time, to rest the overworked heart. Remember, when we're standing up the heart has to pump the blood stream the full height of the body. When lying down, gravity helps—the blood flows parallel with the ground, like water through horizontal pipes.

The second big need is fresh air and lots of it.

Exercise comes third. Combine it with play, to relax the nerves. There'll be plenty of time to scrub the floors and do other physical labor later.

Finally, the thing that is wrecking the nerves of the American people is needless rush—hurry at breakneck speed and without any special destination. We have to speed up at our work but it's time to slow down and "take things easy" when the bell rings and we quit our jobs until tomorrow.

Fresh Censorship Plan

IT'S a cold day when somebody fails to come across with a new scheme for controlling the news.

It's a heritage from the war. Admiral W. L. Rodgers has the latest idea. Addressing the Institute of Politics at Williamstown, Mass., he argued that stories of "local crimes and trifles sent abroad give a wrong impression of the United States," consequently sending them outside the country ought not to be allowed. Some of the news does give foreigners a mistaken notion of the country it comes from, but nothing gives as bad an impression of a country as the knowledge that it suppresses news its government doesn't like. Never was a censorship established except to cover up things the world ought to know.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Prof. E. D. Long, who until now has been in charge of the Latin department of the state normal, is promoted to chief of the department of education, succeeding J. O. Zugmiller who resigned. Tomorrow Dr. Carl Froese Spuhler arrives to take charge of the new department of physical education to be started this year at the normal.

Miss Hattie Jefferson and Miss Anderson of Door-finger's Millinery department returned yesterday from an extended trip in the east.

Howard Tetley, son of W. L. Tetley, has returned from Minneapolis where he has completed a course in scientific embalming. He will be associated with Tetley and Schroeder.

Miss Gretchen Oeschger leaves Sunday for Glary, N. D., where she will have the position of assistant principal of the high school.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

What farmers of Goose Island and local business men have looked forward to for many years and which the late W. L. Kasppler worked hard to secure has been realized in the damming of Running Slough by the government. The slough is being completely shut off and a roadway of twelve feet will be made. This will enable the farmers to reach their hay lands by a considerably shorter route.

Miss Olga Mueller, a former teacher in the high school here, has taken a position in a high school in Seattle.

Westby has at last given the La Crosse and South-eastern Railway company permission to run its tracks on certain desired streets in Westby. The town also gave a bonus of $5,000. This was done to induce the road to build the depot in Westby rather than two and a half miles out as at first planned.

John Johnson, formerly driver for C. L. Hood, has gone to Galesville with the pacer Bessie E., which he recently purchased from Dr. E. C. Suiter.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Many citizens are just beginning now to realize the great advantages of the new electric railway which has recently been started in our city. A physician remarked that he can go now by electric car to North La Crosse and make his calls faster and with more comfort than with his horse and carriage. Many more persons now ride than used the old horse cars and as a result the returns are noticeably larger.

Among La Crosse people registered at the World's Fair today are Dr. and Mrs. D. S. McArthur, J. B. Funke and wife, Mrs. M. Luening and Irma Luening, Gertrude Heyden, J. G. Meng and wife, C. L. Colman and Mrs. Edward Maurer.

The Tivoli Garden belonging to John Fox was sold this morning for $7,000 to the C. & J. Michel company.

The Uhler blacksmith shop in North La Crosse has been torn down.

W. D. P. Lowery has resigned as principal of the Tenth Ward school and will now devote his time to the wholesale and retail handling of flour, meal and feed. The season's first frost fell last night.

Polly's Purple Beads

BY RUBY DOUGLAS

"Polly, dear, I like to see you taking an interest in clothes, and I do love the pretty orchid evening gown you're so devoted to of late, but I am tired of picking up purple beads everywhere I go," sighed Polly Anderson's chum one afternoon as she picked up bits of colored china from the rug.

Polly laughed. "That's the trail of my aura!"

"Aura nonsense! And, besides, they don't have trails, they have merely north, south, east and west. I've been reading a very learned book about the human atmosphere by a person who has almost all the letters of the alphabet after his name and he has pictures of your aura in his articles. They have no trails, Polly, and I'm right, have it your way. Any way, I am known by my wake of purple beads, am I not?"

As usual, Polly had the final word. The orchid gown trimmed so heavily in tiny purple beads was a venture with her and she had never to have it attract so much attention.

Somewhere in an essay on colors she had read that the mauve and purple shades were mental stimulants and with no further excuse or motive than that in her whimsical mind, she had searched the town for a gown in which should blaze forth those shades. "For I shall be mentally stimulated—I shall," she said to herself on that occasion. She had felt herself getting into a rut for months. Nothing was any fun. Nothing amused her. She seemed sub-normal, spiritless. She had hoped to see this little essay on colors. It had appealed to her and she had bought the gown in which she was shedding its beads everywhere she went, and she was being amused by the result. No doubt she would have been equally well entertained if the beads had been green.

One morning she was casting her eye casually over the lost and found column of her daily paper. She liked to read them. She stopped suddenly, her eyes fairly glued to a small inset.

"FOUND—Numerous small purple beads, evidently of value. Owner may have same by matching them for identification." "N."

"What if they should be my purple beads?" thought Polly. Then she scoffed at the idea. Who would be so silly as to advertise common china beads he had found?

But her interest and curiosity were aroused and she replied to the advertisement and inclosed a dozen of the small trimmings in order to prove possession.

"Well—I have stimulated my interest in the everyday of life, anyway," she said to herself as she felt a peculiar thrill at the sight of the postman again.

A small package addressed to her was handed to her by the mail carrier. Polly opened it eagerly. There, on a bed of white cotton, a small jeweler's box was dozens of her little purple beads. She looked on the wrapper.

"Arthur Norton, College Heights." "College Heights? What? Is there such a place? Not in this town. I know. And how did my beads get out of town? All these questions tumbled through Polly's mind.

She looked at the postmark and found that the town was a small university city in far from where she lived. But who was Arthur Norton? Where did he get the beads and why did he advertise for the owner of anything so valueless?

Nevertheless, she put the box of beads away carefully and proceeded to recall the names of every one she had ever met from the university town. She had not been to a hop or a fraternity dance since she had worn the gown. Otherwise, it might have been a prank of some of her student friends. Trying to be entirely indifferent as to the answer, she asked her chum one afternoon when they were together if she knew an Arthur Norton.

"Nothing, specially. I happened to think I knew some one by that name and yet I could not place him. Perhaps it is some one I've read—some writer," fibbed Polly glibly.

The girls compared notes and found they were both invited to a dance at one of the fraternity houses at the university the following month.

"Let's go," said Polly. "It's ages since we've been to only I know the boys bore you, and they do me, but they can dance. You'll have to grant them that, and I know of nothing more exciting to do."

"All right, I'll go," Polly had a premonition that she ought to wear her purple frock. It was her habit to wear a new dancing gown for such occasions, but she seemed to want to wear the beaded orchid chiffon. She didn't quite admit it to herself, but this was the real reason for her going to the dance at all—she found out if there was such a person as Arthur Norton in the college town. The men with whom the girls were to go to the dance had arranged to meet them at the train and take them to the fraternity house, where they were to stay with a number of other out-of-town girls.

Polly and her chum arrived on schedule time. Polly's heart danced at the adventure of her trip. The orchid gown was in her bag with the purple satin slippers and silver wreath for her bobbed hair.

They were scarcely inside the door of the fraternity house when the man she was with was stopped by a friend. "Hello, Norton, coming tonight of course?" asked Polly's companion. "Rather," replied the stranger. He had not noticed Polly.

Polly, accustomed at least to a glance from most male eyes, was a trifle piqued when the stranger passed on. "Who was that?" she asked, loftily, the name having caught her ear. "That's Prof. Norton, the new professor of applied psychology. A bit of a nut, perhaps, but quite all right. He'll be at the dance."

"Surely he could not be Arthur Norton," argued Polly to herself. That night when Prof. Norton was presented to her and she saw his splendid gray eyes fall on the designs of purple beads all over her shimmering gown she knew it was he. "But—" he began.

Polly stopped him while she got into step. "Don't ask me now. I'd rather wait a minute. Isn't it funny?"

The two danced for a couple of moments in silence, wondering at the rhythm that had so suddenly caught them up together.

"Now tell me," said Polly, looking up at him. "You are Arthur Norton and you did send the beads, but where did you get them and why did you advertise?"

He explained that in the beginning it had been a joke. One of the men from his house had been visiting in Polly's town, had picked up the beads here and there during the course of a dance, for fun, had pulled them out of his dinner coat pocket and dared Norton to advertise for the owner. There the subject had dropped between the men, but, unknown to any one, he had sent in the advertisement. "With this result," he was saying as he led Polly to a secluded corner.

"Do you believe in such infinitesimal small things having any real place in the scheme of Fate?" asked Polly later.

"Do it," asked Norton, all the earnestness he dared to exhibit in those words. "Wait and see."

Polly did not have to wait long to learn that the purple beads had strewn themselves across her pathway for a wonderful purpose.

Labor in Business

EVERY newspaperman in the country will welcome to the ranks of the profession the labor unions which have bought the New York Call, formerly a socialist paper, and installed their own editor and manager. They are welcome for the same reason that bankers approve of the new labor union banks and trust companies that have recently been undertaken, or other union business enterprises. Labor unions in business are a two-fold benefit to the country aside from the service which all sound business renders to society. The union leaders are enabled to see the problems of industry from the point of view of the business man, and the union members become more than ever conscious of having a stake in the industrial and business stability and prosperity of the nation. It should make for better relations between industry and labor, for the big element of all friction between them has been the inability of each side to understand the other's problems and point of view. There is evident a distinct trend on the part of unionism to enter the field of ownership and management, and it is to be hoped that their numerous experiments now under way will prosper and be multiplied. There should be no room for class-feeling and division in this country, but we have been heading straight toward it in the last generation with the growth of great machine industry, which has made ownership and management the field of capital and tended to place the man of small property or none in a class of wage-workers. By investing the joint savings and dues of the workers, through their organizations, in business there is offered a means of restoring the balance proper to a democratic country where every man willing to work should have as much of a stake in the economic structure as in the government. It is a healthy sign of progress.

How Will it End?

THERE'S a tragedy in Chicago of a different sort than the usual sordid triangle. A mother is in jail for seriously wounding her son. She shot him when he scoffed at her pleadings that he find a job, and told her that he could steal as much money as she wanted. In her cell, the weeping mother told how the family came over from Hungary to get a better chance for their children, how they had scrimped and saved to give the boy a technical education, and how her disappointment increased as the youth displayed no interest in honest work, got into a gang of semi-criminal loafers, and at length was arrested for stealing a motor-car. The denouement of the story came when the son, after being out all night, scorned and taunted his mother for her appeals. Editorial comment can add little to that story. One wonders what the outcome will be. Will the boy die, and the mother who gave her whole life that he might be a man stand trial for his murder? Or will he recover—and if he lives will he be the better for his experience or continue his degenerate way of life and break his mother's heart? How interesting it would be to follow up the tale and see how inscrutable Providence works out the plot!

Best Exercise

THE best exercise for fat women who want to reduce is scrubbing the kitchen floor, claims Mrs. Catherine H. Griebel, of N. J. State College of Agriculture. Maybe so, but it's like telling the tired business man it would do him as much good to get a caddie job as to play golf. Wood chopping is about as fine exercise as there is. But there's no danger of wood chopping becoming the national sport. People, when they "exercise," want to get away from work.

After all, it's a good thing for us to try to get our physical exercise in the form of play. Exercise helps the muscles and internal organs, but play makes the nerves relax, which is just as important as developing the muscles. There isn't much relaxation of tense nerves when we combine hard work with our exercise. The average person who "needs exercise" usually is the victim of nerves rather than of physical inactivity. This can be proved by going to bed and

Pretty Hands from Dishpans!

Pure Soap—This New Way
is the Reason, as Thousands Now Know

Those lovely, dainty hands. Are you spoiling them?

Here is a new idea in a household soap. It will help you to keep them pretty.

As world's experts in beauty, we made it for the woman who does her own work. A soap for cleaning, scrubbing, washing, that is kind to the skin.

Why Women Had Ugly Hands

3 housewives in 4 used to have ugly, red hands.

Now you see fewer and fewer every day. "Housewives' hands" soon will be a rarity.

Old-time household soaps contained 25% to 40% water-glass—a skin wrecker. Of 28 popular brands recently tested, 27 were adulterated.

That was the cause.

Now With Olive Oil!

But now comes a more gentle way.

The name is Green Arrow—all pure soap, no adulterant.

Olive oil is a principal ingredient. It is as fine as a quality toilet soap. Yet it cleans more quickly and safely than the strongest laundry soap.

Wash, scrub, house clean—you have pretty hands! It will do this for you.

For One Week

Obtain a bar of Green Arrow at your grocers.

Then look at your hands in one week.

What you see will be a revelation.

And it costs but a few cents each month to enjoy this new delight. It goes almost twice as far as low grade soap—and you must figure soap cost by the month, not by the cake.

Green Arrow Soap comes in two forms—cake soap, for general household use—chips (or flakes) for laundry and fine fabrics. Both offer you unusual advantages.

Your Hands Tell the Story

Rough, ugly hands tell a story to the world. A story of the kitchen, the laundry, the scrub bucket.

Most women do housework. But few want to tell it to every chance acquaintance.

Most laundry soaps contain 25 to 40% water glass. This adulterant, technically known as silicate of soda, is invariably accompanied by an excess of caustic. It is this "filler"—not soap—that ruins hands. Green Arrow is made with the precision of a toilet soap and is pure soap.

Now you can have white and lovely hands regardless of how much kitchen work you do.

For your hands and your clothes sake, go to your grocer and insist on buying GREEN ARROW.

S. O. MEN DISCUSS GASOLINE SITUATION WITH S. D. GOVERNOR

Officials Visit Pierre for Conference at Invitation of McMaster

PIERRE, S. D.—Col. Robert W. Stuart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company, Indiana, and other officials of the company, were here Wednesday to confer with Governor W. H. McMaster of South Dakota, with reference to the gasoline situation in this state.

The oil men came at the invitation of the governor, who recently started a "gasoline war" by cutting the price of the product ten cents from 26.6 cents per gallon at the state supply depot and issuing a statement saying that the Standard was "profiteering."

The Standard later met this attack by making their price in this state 15 1-2 cents per gallon. Independent oil dealers finally came down to this figure but gave out a statement attacking the governor and asserting they were faced with "ruin" and sacrificed to the governor's "political ambitions."

FREE HIGH SCHOOL IS IMPERILED BY ELECTION

JUDA, Wis.—This Green county village is aroused over the special election to be held here on August 30, to decide if the Union free high school district including portions of four townships near here shall be dissolved. Dissolution of the district will mean the abolition of the four year accredited high school course that has been the pride of the village many years. On two occasions it has been voted to build a new building to cost between $45,000 and $60,000, but now a group has succeeded in bringing about a referendum.

Make Way for the Women of the South Says Their Champion

BY MARIAN HALE.
NEA Service Writer.
NEW YORK—The southern woman, known universally as a beauty and perfect hostess, is in revolt. She wants it to be known that she can do more than preside over a tea urn gracefully—that she is among the best educated women in the country. And she has figures to prove it.

"The social butterfly is proving herself in the business world, in politics and in the professions, and she believes that it is high time the world realizes it," says Miss Helen P. McCormick, field secretary of the Southern Women's Educational Alliance. Miss McCormick, herself a southern woman, was formerly assistant district attorney in Brooklyn the first woman to hold such a post in New York City.

"The south is the only section of this country which can boast a woman in the House of Parliament—Lady Nancy Astor," Miss McCormick points out.

High Honor
"The south had the first woman to fill a place on a federal board of commissioners. The chair was one which Theodore Roosevelt had formerly held, and the woman, Helen Hamilton Gardner.

MINNESOTA ARRAYS FORCES FOR FIGHT ON FOREST FIRES

Officials Preparing for What May Prove Unusually Long and Hard Fire Season

DULUTH, Minn.—Forestry officials in the state and the Minnesota and Superior National forests, mindful of the fact that the recent unusually early frosts have nipped the vegetation, turning the green into brown, and that the fuel for brush, dead and rotting, is everywhere, are preparing their forces for what they fear may be an unusually long fall fire season.

Favored by virtual freedom from summer fires due to frequent showers, the forest guards have just concluded a successful period of organization, and repairing and distributing equipment and otherwise putting things in shape. Most of the disastrous fires in the north country have occurred in the fall of the year during the time intervening between the first frost and the first snowfall.

Approach of the 1923 dangerous season finds the guardians of the three forest areas confident that they will be able to meet any emergency providing they are given ready cooperation by visitors to the wooded regions and the settlers, villagers, township fire wardens and others living therein.

Up in the Superior National where winding streams, connecting innumerable lakes, flow through long stretches of woods virtually inaccessible to foot travel, high-powered motor launches, equipped with emergency supplies have been made ready to rush guards to threatening blazes. Supervisor Calvin A. Dahlgren said his forces are ready.

Over in the Minnesota National in pine-studded Cass Lake country, Supervisor George Marshall has perfected a fire fighting organization which, he feels, will continue to cope with the expected fire hazards.

From his St. Paul office, state Forester T. C. Jones has just completed a check over the scattered and far-reaching territory which shows that extensive preparations have been made to protect as best possible, the valuable stands of mature and growing trees.

Special attention has been paid to developing the lookout system of detecting forest fires and many elevated sections, graced with all-steel towers under glass-enclosed "crow's nests," have been added to this essential branch of the service. This has increased the range of the eagle-eyed lookouts whose observations bring isolated woods sections within the scope of the more efficient institution.

In a few localities due to the topographical and geographical conditions, the range of one station overlaps another. Where vantage points existed in the vicinity of especially valuable or more highly inflammable districts, erection of the towers has been arranged accordingly.

Deep into the wilderness woods, rangers' towers have advanced with the supplies and equipment to make caches at convenient points. This work was made more difficult because care had to be taken to make the caches bear-proof, for the prairie brutes in numerous cases have beat the fire fighters to the hidden stores, with embarrassing and sometimes near tragic results.

HEAD OF CIVIL WAR MUSICIANS DIES

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—A note of sadness was injected into plans for the convention of the National Association of Civil War Musicians, to be held in conjunction with the G. A. "The very tragedy of the Russian situation during the war might have been saved if $1,000,000 had been sent in time. The Russian peasant is the most misunderstood individual there is. If given the proper attention he is the biggest possibility in the world today. In the past 50 years Russia has made greater contributions to the world of literature, art, music and chemistry than any other country in the world. Their crying need is moral and christian backbone."

Doctor Elliott's last plea was for an enlistment in a spiritual warfare under the banner of Christ.

TERMS TO BE MADE KNOWN THIS EVENING

at the conference at Harrisburg with operators and union leaders.

Representatives of the Interstate Commerce commission, the American Railway association, the United States Bureau of Mines, and the American Federation of Engineering societies also were parties to the agreement.

"If the need arises we will start at once to put into operation our plan for maintaining rapid distribution of what anthracite is available and of sufficient bituminous, oil and other substitutes to keep people from suffering," Mr. Wadleigh said.

The plan provided shipment by each state of an emergency fuel distributing organization, and a similar one by the federal government.

The federal body would work with the states in distributing fuel, obtaining supplies from the fields and getting railroad co-operation for quick transportation.

Mr. Wadleigh said the American Railway association had promised to look after proper distribution, while the bureau of mines would educate the public in the use of substitute fuels.

Report Coal Costs

WASHINGTON.—A report on the cost of anthracite to coal dealers in New York, New Jersey, Michigan, Delaware, Maryland, and the District of Columbia was Wednesday issued by the coal commission.

No comparisons of the findings with prevailing retail prices were made, however, and the commission emphasized that in using "its cost to dealer information" allowance should be made for losses incurred by the dealer by degradation.

Typical examples of the cost per ton to dealers are as follows: the variation between maximum and minimum cost being represented by difference of cost at the mine and some slight differences in freight.

Delaware—Wilmington, $11.32 to $13.15.

District of Columbia—Washington, $11.58 to $12.78.

Michigan—Detroit, $12.60 to $14.63; Escanaba, $14.72; Iron Mountain, $12.85; Ironwood, $14.14 to $15.59; Kalamazoo, $13.87 to $16.17; Menominee, $15.32 to $15.50.

KENOSHA WORKERS STRIKE

KENOSHA, Wis.—Troubles which have been brewing for several months in the garment making industry in Kenosha came to a crisis here today when one-half of the force employed at the Kenosha Garment company staged a walkout at ten o'clock Wednesday morning when the employer refused to accede to a request for collective bargaining. Other workers refused to join in the strike.

COUNTY IS WELL REPRESENTED AT THE STATE FAIR

La Crosse County Farmers Have Exhibits in Livestock and Crop Departments

(By W. E. Spreiter, County Agent.) AT THE FAIR GROUNDS—The State Fair is on at Milwaukee and La Crosse county is well represented. J. D. McDonald, West Salem, is showing Poland China hogs and Holstein cattle; J. W. Thomas, L. F. Atwater and Fred Sprain are showing Durocs; W. C. Miller is showing Chester Whites and is doing his share of winning, getting some firsts and seconds on Monday.

Adolph Nuttleman, Edwin Young and Bert Hyzer are showing Guernsey cattle, and Art Nuttleman and Quackenbush have some of their good Holsteins here. Ed. Martin is here with a large number of his good brown Swiss cattle. Carl Price has his nine head of Herfords and the Shorthorns are being shown by C. Marco and son, and by E. E. Jones. E. A. Jones is also here with some of his winning Clydesdale horses.

Matt Knudson has some Jerseys here and was well in the money in the Calf Club, winning second and fourth places.

Several boys are here with calves, corn and a few samples of potatoes. La Crosse county is further represented by county exhibit booth, Boys' and Girls' Corn booth. The West Salem High school has a clean milk demonstration booth, and clean milk demonstration team composed of three boys.

The county school has a home nursing demonstration team composed of three girls under the leadership of Miss French, the domestic science teacher.

Crops Department

There is a long string of entries in the crops, fruit and vegetable departments. Those showing in that department are P. E. Scheppeler, Rockland; Otto Wolf and sons, Route 2, La Crosse; Ed. and Archie Peters, Route 2, La Crosse; R. Kleinsmith, Mrs. L. F. Easton, La Crosse; S. L. Simonson, West Salem; Jipka Whilanga, Midway; John Kastenschmidt and Milton Pfaff, Mindoro; Fred Schroeder, Route 3, La Crosse; Gasper Bros., Rockland, and Burdick, Standard.

Very little judging has been done yet, so there is not much to report in that line.

The following men have some ribbons tied onto their coats and barley sheaves: Otto Wolf, Gasper Bros., R. Kleinsmith, Ed. Peters, Archie Peters and Paul Shepler.

There is a big entry list and strong competition in all lines, but we hope La Crosse county will hold her own in all departments.

SUICIDE THEORY HELD BY POLICE IN SUTPHEN CASE

NEW YORK—Police Wednesday

learned toward the theory of suicide by poison as an explanation of the death of John B. Sutphen, private secretary, whose body was found Sunday in his $12,000 a year Central Park West apartment.

Financial reverses and failing health—his physician had cautioned him against further drinking—formed the basis for this theory, although Assistant District Attorney Wilson previously had said his investigation had showed that several persons would benefit from Sutphen's death.

The police said the suicide theory was strengthened by discovery that on Friday Sutphen, who spent $75,000 a year in quest of gaiety in the white light district, had assigned his property to Ernest A. Dunlap, a partner.

Previously, it was said, Sutphen had tried to assign his property to Robert C. Spohn, an advertising promoter, who declined the offer, he told the police, because he suspected Sutphen contemplated suicide.

The police now believe that Sutphen's Saturday night party in which he was joined by Mr. and Mrs. Spohn and the latter's sister, was his last flourish and that while intoxicated he swallowed a capsule of poison.

DUKE OF YORK STAKES ARE WON BY PAPYRUS

YORK, England.—By the Associated Press.—Papyrus, Bob Irish's Derby winner, won the Duke of York stakes here Wednesday. Papyrus finished a short head behind Craig Elvett, owned by A. H. Strucker, but the latter horse was replaced by the judges on the ground that he "bored" that is, did not keep straight on the course. Lord Astor's Concorde was placed second and Aga Khan's Trick Aunt third.

ACTOR HURT IN FALL IS STILL UNCONSCIOUS

LOS ANGELES CALIF.—Physicians attending James Kirkwood, motion picture actor, whose skull was fractured last Saturday when he was thrown from a horse, were still of the opinion early Wednesday that trepanning operation would be necessary although admitting they had considered it.

Except for brief periods of lucidity, the actor has been unconscious since the accident.

MECHANICAL MAN POSES IN WINDOW OF BURROWS STORE

Billy Gilbert a so-called mechanical man will be an attraction in the window of the Burrows store for the next three days.

Mr. Gilbert poses for hours at a time in show windows and the few slight movements he makes are identical with those of a real mechanical figure. Burrows offers $100 in merchandise to the person who can make Gilbert laugh.

CALEDONIA READY FOR THE BIGGEST FAIR IN HISTORY

Indications are that Houston County Fair this Year Will Surpass all Others

The arrangement of exhibits at the great Houston county fair will soon be completed. Under an almost unbroken line, truck load after truck load of Houston county products are entering the grounds from all parts of the county. Farmers and stockmen who never before thought of entering their stock and fowls are unloading their best near the stock barns and "dety" competition to beat them. Never before in the eleven years of fair for Houston county has rivalry been as keen as it is this year among the different entries.

Workmen are working overtime to complete the 52 stalls made necessary by the late entries in the cattle and hog department.

In the School Exhibits building, different high schools of the county are placing the articles, made by the higher grades. About half of the building is reserved for the products of the rural schools. With untiring efforts, County Superintendent of Schools Miss Olson has collected the articles from the different rural schools and has them placed very beautifully on the walls and on tables. One hundred eighty-eight entries were sent to the Minnesota State Fair.

Red Cross Tent

The Houston County Red Cross has erected a large tent. This tent will be under the able supervision of the county nurse, Miss Lucile Lommen. Here mothers will be given instructions, babies weighed and free milk will be distributed.

The Farm Bureau tent is under the supervision of County Agent W. D. Stegner. It will be the headquarters for the farm bureau members of the county. Mr. Stegner has arranged an agricultural program for each day, a Dairy and Beef judging demonstration, a poultry culling demonstration, bee talks, live stock breeders meeting and a talk to women on poultry by Miss Cora Cook, extension worker. J. E. Reid, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau will also address the members.

Junior Department

Twenty farmer boys and girls have entered their dairy calves in the contest, eight have entered baby beefs and fifteen have entered their prize pig of various breeds. A canning team and a bread baking club under the supervision of S. E. Robinson, agricultural instructor of Spring Grove, will give demonstrations.

Tents after tents are being erected and by Wednesday morning the fair grounds will resemble a small city. Both J. E. Stegner and Ed. Zimmerhake, president and secretary are jubilant over the success of the fair so far and they predict that with weather anything near favorable the crowds will break all records.

MILK DEMONSTRATION STAGED BY GIRLS AT BADGER STATE FAIR

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Ever hear of Minnie Mineral or Polly Protein or Sally Sugar or Fanny Fat or Viola Vitamin?

These five good fairies, who dwell in every bottle of milk and help boys and girls along the road to health, are introduced to the fair by the milk drinks demonstration in the woman's building at the State fair by Myrtle Johannes, 16-year-old Wausau high school girl.

Little Miss Johannes, with her two fellow workers, Ellen Burg, Fend du Lac, and Helen Lohr, Wausau, are members of the milk drinks team whose duty it is to show mothers how they can "dress up" milk into drinks that will fascinate children instead of repelling them. For instance, "sip a cherry julep" sounds much more inviting than merely "drink a glass of milk." And when the children see the pretty pink color of the fluid they can't resist either delicious beverage made of eggs and milk are the "chocolate blossom" and "Sarsaparilla blossom."

Miss Vangel Russell, county demonstration agent of Marathon county, is in charge.

RURAL CHILDREN AT STATE FAIR COMPETE IN SCHOOL CONTESTS

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Forty-five

bright-looking boys and girls gathered at the State fair educational department headquarters Wednesday and went with E. J. Young, superintendent, to the Rest tent to compete for the state championship in spelling, arithmetic, and writing.

The children represent forty-five counties in the state. Each child won the contest in a rural school by having the highest average in all three studies, then won a similar district contest and were to the county sent to the Rest tent to compete for the state championship.

With expenses paid and try for the state championship.

SOKOL PHYSICAL DIRECTOR BUMPS TREE WITH AUTO

B. F. Prusa, physical director of the Union of Catholic Sokols of America, motoring through with his wife from Chicago for the convention here, slipped off the road on a high hill near Big Creek Tuesday afternoon and slid down the bank. The car, an Essex coach, slid twenty-five feet down the bank and lodged against the tree. The radiator was smashed, but no other damage was done. None of the occupants of the car were hurt.

Washington statistics show divorcees increasing. Marriage ties, it seems, are being knots.

MILWAUKEE BUSY WITH PREPARATIONS FOR G. A. R. MEET

Warm Welcome Awaits Grand
Army Men at National Encampment Next Week

ELAINE ASKS PERMISSION TO USE ARMY COTS AND BLANKETS

Appeals to Coolidge for Authority Denied by War Department

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—In preparation of a colorful welcome for the fifty-seventh annual encampment of the G. A. R. which will be held here from Sept. 2 to 7, this city is just becoming garbed in the colors of the national emblem. Merchants throughout the city are busy decorating their establishments with a lavish display of red, white, and blue. Many show windows have already been decorated and in many of them a huge sign with the words "Welcome G. A. R." is displayed. The spirit of the occasion is in evidence everywhere.

Thousands of veterans who at one time rallied at the cry of "On to Richmond," are now heeding the call "On to Milwaukee," where probably for the last time many of veterans will convene. In addition to the thousands of aged veterans, 30,000 other visitors are expected to heed the call for the encampment. Then too hundreds of visitors here for the state fair will remain for the reunion next week. The housing committee of the G. A. R. has completed plans which will accommodate at least 50,000 persons. Illinois will probably send the largest delegation with Massachusetts or California a close second.

Pictures in Fireworks

Nothing has been left undone in the line of arrangements for entertaining the members. On the night of Sept. 4 the lake front will become a veritable art gallery for pictures in fireworks. Hung in the air over Lake Michigan 65 sets of explosive masterpieces will be shown. One of the features of the display will be a picture of General Grant and General Lee at the moment of the latter's surrender. Another will show the battle between the Monitor and Merrimac. Others will show a great battle in the air, a bust of Abraham Lincoln, Admiral Dewey, Niagara Falls, and several comic pieces.

A sham battle will be an attraction which will strikingly bring out the contrast to the minds of the veterans, between the old methods of warfare and the modern ones. Several thousand troops stationed along the lake front will try to repulse a landing party of marines sent off from a fleet of sub-chasers. Eight airplanes will hover over the fleet in the harbor.

Appeal to Coolidge
MADISON, Wis.—Governor Blaine appealed to President Coolidge Wednesday in an effort to have the president persuade the war department to permit the use of army cots for the G. A. R. national encampment at Milwaukee, commencing September 2.

The war department, the governor said, has refused to permit the quartermaster general at Camp Douglas to turn over cots to be used during the G. A. R. meeting.

"We must have 5000 extra beds with army cots and blankets to care for the survivors of the dark days of the civil war," the governor wired the president. "The secretary of war has refused their use."

FOOTBALL IN THE AIR; COOL WINDS HURRY THE SEASON

It is in the air about this time of the year.

When the first of the leaves begin to turn color and the breezes grow slightly cooler, then it is that football warriors and football fans begin to think of their great outdoor pastime. This year the football season is getting an early start, and about the most noticeable sign of the season is the first of the leaves.

Already Captain Reddy Morrison, who hopes to pilot the normal school football team to a championship this fall, has issued a call for football material. He wants to meet the members of last year's squad and any new men who have football aspirations, at the normal school at three o'clock on Tuesday, September 4.

At that time Coach "Tubby" Keeler and Captain Morrison will begin the work of organizing the squad and laying out the season's work.

WITH THE MAJOR LEAGUES

CHICAGO, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—The New York Giants slipped a notch lower reducing their National league standing to three games by losing to the Chicago Cubs at the Polo grounds yesterday, 4 to 1. The venerable Grover Cleveland Alexander hit the champions down with five hits.

The Cincinnati Nationals tightened their second place hold by defeating Boston, 4 to 1. Luque allowed the Boston batters only three hits.

The Washington Americans won in Detroit when they pounded out three runs in the ninth inning. The score was 10 to 0.

The St. Louis Nationals took the second game of the series in Philadelphia, 8 to 7, after hammering Cough for 15 hits and a total of 21 bases.

No other games were played in the big leagues but Babe Ruth, batting in an exhibition in Toronto, knocked a long clean homer over the fence into Toronto bay. The Toronto Leafs won the game, 8 to 2.

A gray granite monument, six feet tall, approximately inscribed, has been erected over the grave of "Rube" Waddell, famous old time pitcher who died in 1914. The "Rube" is buried in San Antonio, the monument was purchased by the National and Texas leagues and a few individual subscribers.

"Goose" Goslin, speedy outfielder of the Washington club, drove out the longest hit seen at Navin field in Detroit this season when the ball sailed over the right field bleachers. The blow helped the Senators to beat Detroit in a game which was featured by heavy hitting.

The veteran, Grover Alexander, of the Chicago Nationals had the New York Giants at his mercy in the Cubs' last game of the year at the Polo grounds. New York and as a result cut lead of the world's champions to three games as Cincinnati won its game from Boston. A triple by Bernie Friberg in the eighth inning put Chicago out in front and enabled Alexander to hang up his thirty-third victory from New York. Alexander has lost 29 games to the New York club during his major league career.

A drizzling rain failed to dampen the fighting spirit of the St. Louis and Philadelphia Nationals, who battled through nine innings. Jimmy Bottomley led the attack with three hits, one of which was a double.

TAYLOR DEFEATS TRI-STATES IN GAME ON SUNDAY

The Tri-State ball team lost to Taylor Sunday, 7 to 3. The game was a 2 to 3 tie until the seventh inning when Taylor got five hits which resulted in four runs. Lamberson pitched a good game outside of the seventh inning. "Fat" Stoege of Dahl's Fords, last year playing the initial sack for the Tri-States, clouted out a circuit drive with no one on.

GILKERSON'S UNION GIANTS OPEN A TWO GAME SERIES HERE

The Thursday game will also be called at five o'clock.

POZZLING PLAYS BY DILLY EVANS

THE PLAY
When the umpire declares infield fly, what bearing does it have, if an outfielder ultimately handles the ball?

With the bases filled and one out, the batsman hits a high fly to short. The umpire thinks the ball can easily be handled by an infielder, and immediately rules it an infield fly, protecting the basemen.

The left fielder, playing in close, comes tearing in. The shortstop is all set to make the play.

The shortstop keeps calling that he will make the play, but it is unheeded by the left fielder. The shortstop at the last moment, to avert a collision, steps aside and permits the left fielder to make a play.

The left fielder muffed the ball and gave it a regular drop kick as it struck the ground. All three runners scored and the batsman reached second.

The team at bat claims the handling of the fly by an outfielder makes void the umpire's ruling of infield fly.

What about it?

THE INTERPRETATION
If, in the opinion of the umpire the shortstop was unable to make a play on the fly ball, and he declared it an "infield fly" the batsman was out under the rule, even though an outfielder actually handled the ball and then muffed it. The three runs, of course, scored.

SPARKS BIG ALL NEW CIRCUS HERE PARADE IN MORNING

Fine Show Given at the Grounds on Campbell Road this Afternoon and Evening

The Sparks circus reached the city early this morning on its all-time steel train and as it is the time honored custom of circuses, it arrived before daylight, so that when the sun appeared to warm the day into regulation, the old fashioned circus weather the "tent city" had already taken form as if by magic at the Campbell Road grounds.

Promptly at 10:30 the strident notes of the slip horns emanating from the hand wagon in the lead rounded the corner onto the main streets where the vast multitudes were awaiting this big feature. And they were not disappointed in the least for true to the advance billing the Sparks circus has given into the "big show" class and the parade proved a worthy criterion for the excellent performance that followed in the "big-top" this afternoon.

From the opening oriental spectacle "Echoes from the reign of King Tut" to the closing number, that of a genuine English Fox Hunt, the program of the Sparks circus embraced not after act of exceptional merit. In this spectacle all of the vast resources of the circus in elephants, camels and horses, all gaily bedecked in gorgeous blankets, have been drawn upon to the fullest extent and in addition several hundred human participants featuring Bessie Harvey, original "prima-donna of the white-tops," a corps of premier dancers, musicians playing weird instruments and a large chorus are prime factors of this novel offering.

Trained wild beasts predominated in the circus proper and they included polar bears with dogs and ponies intermingling fearlessly, five fighting lions and a group of beautiful Bengal tigers. Those of a less ferocious type were two large elephant pairs with lady trainers, the Capt. Tichor musical and acrobatic seals, the Bibb County pigs, trained llamas and even the lumbering ostrich has been taught to do astounding stunts by the eddy trainer.

This circus has always been famed for its wonderful horses and a 1923 acquisition is a remarkable group of sixteen German trained "Geration" horses direct from the Steinhagen Training quarters. The extreme height of animal intelligence was displayed in their wonderful offering this afternoon during which they were greeted with round after round of applause from the large audience. The equine aristocrats of the horse-world, the Sparks dancing horses featuring Minnie Thompson, horsewoman of world-wide reputation was another important feature, as was Bessie Harvey with her trained pingers and thoroughbred Arabian mount Hassan Bey.

Other displays included dainty Flora Redini, Walter Guico, Bessie and Melvin Hollis, each a "crossback" rider of renown. Clowns that were positively funny to the extreme were in abundance at all times during the performance with a number of up-to-the-split-second conceits. The two hour's program is brought to an ending with the reproduction of a genuine English Fox-Hunt in which a round dozen hurdle horses, featuring King George, champion broad jumper of the world participated, the latter ridden by Clarence Harris, a rider of renown in the horse-world. Another performance of this circus will be given tonight at 8, with the doors opening at 7, during which period a popular musical program will be rendered by the Jack Phillips Concert Band.

SAYS U. S. CAN'T ACT IN BRITISH RUM DEATHS

BOSTON, Mass.—On grounds that the United States is without jurisdiction in the case of the two men killed on a British rum schooner last week by seven men who raided it, United States Commissioner Haynes refused to issue warrants for the arrest of the men.

Sparks circus bears evidently do not believe in the Velstead act.

FEWER SALE HOGS SHOWN AT IOWA FAIR THIS YEAR

DES MOINES, Iowa.—Low prices of hogs and the proportionately high price of feed have reduced the number of exhibitors in the swine department at the Iowa State fair this year, by discouraging the exhibition of sale animals, but as many show animals are entered as ever before, and the quality of the exhibits is normal, according to J. Carson Duncan of Columbus Junction, Iowa, assistant superintendent of the swine department of the fair. There are about 3,000 hogs on display.

All the champions from county and district fairs in Iowa are entered in the competition for champions and grand champion at the state fair. Judging in the department will be concluded Thursday.

CASINO TODAY

The withering pace of daily life of which thousands of men and women are succumbing is given a powerful indictment in the daring and prophetic screen drama, "Has the World Gone Mad?" at the Casino theatre today.

The woman who at forty forgets her husband and children, undergoes the tortures of face-lifting and obesity cure to prime herself for one last wild fling at illicit romance; the husband whose interests are anywhere but in the bosom of his own family; the profligate son who packs a whisky flask in his hip pocket and gives his family many heartaches as a result of his escapades; the daughter who smokes cigarettes—all these are lashed unmercifully by the producer.

"SUZANNA"

"Suzanna," the new Mack Sennett comedy drama photoplay coming today to the Riviera theatre is a romantic tale of old Mexico with beautiful Senoritas, dashing cavaliers and, of course, a wicked villain or two.

"Suzanna" is a beautiful story portraying the romantic lives of the historical Dons during the early days in California, detailing the particular Spanish architecture of that period in which this story is laid, 1835.

As Suzanna, Mabel Normand is ideally suited for the character. Her winsome and mischievous personality suggests that of the little tom-boy girl she portrays.

Of the stories selected or specially written for Mabel Normand, none, perhaps, has offered her the wonderful possibilities to show her real true character and artistry as does "Suzanna."

THE SHEIK AT THE STRAND

One of the most impressive features of "The Sheik," which comes to the Strand theatre today are the many magnificent and spectacular settings in which the various scenes are enacted. These include:

A remarkable conception of a public section of the ancient City of Carthage under Roman rule; a bird-eye shot of the City of Biskra, the Monte Carlo of the Algerian Sahara, taken from a minaret with an Arab praying in the foreground; fifteen actual shots about the City of Biskra, especially made for the picture by a representative from Paramount's London studio; a picturesque African oasis, especially constructed on a desert site near Hollywood; a complete Arabian village—the stronghold of the bandit chieftain, Omair; and beautiful, exotic interiors, such as the interior of the Sheik's tent, and the desert palace of Omair.

The role of the Sheik is played by Rudolph Valentino. The cast further includes Agnes Ayres, Lucien Littlefield, Adolphe Menjou, George Wagner, Ruth Miller, Walter Long and F. R. Butler.

"LOOK YOUR BEST"

"Look Your Best" is the title of the newest Rupert Hughes photoplay which comes to the Majestic theatre for three days, beginning Thursday. It has all of the humanity, the appeal, the sense of comedy and the dramatic action that have characterized this author-director's previous pictures. Colleen Moore and Antonio Moreno are featured; other players are William Orlamond, Francis McDonald, Orpha Alba and Martha Mattox. The story concerns Perla, an Italian-American girl of New York who replaces a girl in Brunel's butterfly dance act in vaudeville when one of the girls has become too fat.

RESTORE STABILITY OF BUSINESS, AIM OF NEW PRESIDENT

First Official Pronouncement on Business Conditions Issued
by Coolidge Tuesday

WASHINGTON.—President Coolidge's first pronouncement on the general business situation, made at the white house Tuesday through an authorized spokesman, was that the country needs primarily at the present time a feeling of stability, confidence and reassurance, and the knowledge that things are going on smoothly.

It was added that Mr. Coolidge proposes to do all within his power to aid in the development of such a feeling and to that end does not propose through public addresses to add any uncertainty. On the contrary, it was said, he will remain at his desk familiarizing himself with the duties of his office.

The president also was said to have an aversion to the stirring up of political discussion at present because there will be plenty of time for such discussion later. He believes, it was said, that the usual amenities of public life should be observed, and is anxious that full credit be given to those who are assisting him in the duties of government.

While there may be changes in the administration personnel in the future the president is desirous, according to his spokesman, that the country know that for the present no such changes are contemplated.

FOUND NO MONEY CLAIMS LABORER BUT NEIGHBORS BELIEVE THAT HE HID IT

HAGERSTOWN, Md.—Lee Houser, laborer, who last Thursday claimed to have discovered a box containing over $100,000 in gold and bills while working on a road near here, Tuesday night declared the story was a hoax.

Nevertheless he took exception to statements made by C. S. Wheeler, who said his young son had found the box, but that Houser had taken it from the boy's hands.

Houser is said to have visited a lawyer during one of his absences from home recently, and neighbors believe he found and has hidden the treasure, fearing that the government would take it if it were found to be that said to have been buried in this vicinity by Grover C. Bergdoll.

Two department of justice agents who came here from Washington are understood to be little concerned about the money, but are endeavoring to learn more regarding Bergdoll.

Better Living Begins at Home

NOWADAYS the good things of life belong to everybody. It is the age of high standards of living. And it is a tribute to the wholesome thought of America that the home still comes first—richest of all possessions. Nothing we may acquire can make up for a neglected home.

And while it is perfectly natural in our prosperous age that everyone should want beautiful furniture, it is even more remarkable that furniture of artistic appearance and sound quality should be priced within the reach of all. It is simply a matter of knowing where to buy.
